What a wonderful woman, mother, and friend. I have known her since I graduated from high school and started college. When I had my son Sean she babysat him on and off when his grandmother Vera was busy. She loved him like he was her own child. Her family became like our family. We became close and I cherished all the times our paths crossed over the years. Then later in life my nieces were friends of her granddaughters so the cycle of life continues. Wonderful wonderful woman shared her life pieces with me. Always think of her smile, her hugs, her warm kisses and her friendship. Cherish her, her husband, her children...now her grandchildren ... And now the next generation ... Her great grandchildren. Thank you Pat. Oh, I forgot the bowling times too! 🎳 Love and hugs to everyone at this time of loss...just continue to share all those memories....it helps when you get this tug of loss at your heart ❤️ Love, Wanda Stewardson Brooks
