I worked with Ron for several years at Brettwood Village Shopping Center. He knew every nook cranny at the Center. A delightful person who helped me learn all the Brettwood secrets. Since his retirement, after 28 years of service, the Tenants still ask about him. And why shouldn't they, he was their friend. And now a message to his family... You called to ask about the length of his employment at Brettwood. I tried contacting you for the past several days to provide the information that appears above. I must not have had the correct phone number. The answer to your question appears above. I also have your family bible that we found recently at Brettwood. I will bring it to you on Thursday. I am sure Ron would want you to have it. Eric DeVore – August 8, 2016
