Roger and I had a silly teenage romance. But he was such a huge part of my life. We learned so much from one another and I will forever be grateful that I got to have him in my life. I am truly shocked by this news and am beside myself with grief. I wish I could have helped him. I wish I could have helped guide him down another path. I wish I could have been there for him and tell him everything was going to be ok. Roger had such a good heart. Such a caring heart. He truly cared for so many people. He treated his friends like they were family. Anyone who was lucky enough to have him in their lives knew this. They knew they could count on him to always be there. I miss you Roger. You will always have a piece of my heart and I will never forget you. Rest in peace my friend. I know you're up there with your dad looking over all of us.

Reminiscing about you a lot tonight and I remembered that one time you told me you donate money monthly to saving dolphins. You wanted me to know you care about the animals. You said, "They even sent me a t-shirt wit a big ass dolphin." Haha, you were always messing with me telling me crazy stories, because I'm super gullible. But this time, I remember I believed you for a moment longer than normal. Giving up what you have for those you love was your biggest and best characteristic. It was something I witnessed every day I was with you. Saving the dolphins seemed like a Roger move to me. But, I was definitely skeptical when I said I needed a hair cut and you tried to convince me that you were a certified barber and could trim it for me. You pretended to look for your little certification too. I'm almost in tears laughing just remembering that day. You definitely got a kick out of that one. Thankful for all of the memories with you.

I remember you staying at my house all of the time during the school year, and I remember when you used to come to my band practices and hang with all of us all night. We pretended to cut off your finger to scare Trevor's mom; it was great. I had a lot of great times with you, my friend, and it's a shame it had to end this way, but I'll never forget you. Mega Man for life.

I replay the night she left you and it was freezing and you had the windows open and fans blowing listening to Kevin gates and I sat with you and rubbed your back. I'll never forget everything you did to help me. I will always love you. I wish I could have gotten the chance to show you what you are worth. Stayed real from day 1 and always took care of your loved ones. You are one of the only real men in this world. Watch over me and your mom I know your in heaven. Love you always and forever!
