My dearest Grandma, I will hold our Love for each other in my heart forever, I will miss the way you would light up the room with your smile and make me feel like I was so special and you always made me feel like I was someone important in your life. You always knew me like no one else did, you understood me without me ever saying a word. I have never felt such a loss in my life the way I feel losing you, my life will never be the same. You were such a blessing to me and to the whole world, and I thank God for sharing you with us, I know you are at Peace now and that brings me comfort.

I Was saddened by the news, however, she is enjoying her peace and no more pain or needing assistance. We both knew and loved our mamas and amazing that we lost them within a month of each other. I know what you are feeling right now but the grieving is for us they are doing great now. I love you sweetie, always have and always will. sandi
