My deepest sympathy to the family of Ja' Nariyah. Nari was a student of mine last year at Stephen Decatur Middle School. She always had the sweetest face and smile and sometimes an attitude that came out of nowhere when I expected too much of her class or if she was disgusted with me. I wish there were a lesson to teach that we could all learn from, but our Master Teacher had another plan for her and we do not yet quite know what the purpose of this lesson is. Please know that you are in my prayers and they will continue as you face the difficult days ahead. Beverly Storer

Sweet little angel spread your wings and fly! It's time to let you go, it's time for us to cry. Everytime I looked at your pictures and posts, I felt as if I was there. All the poses, all the smiles, felt like happiness everywhere. It's hard to think that you are gone. No one but God really knows why... But I pray that you're still smiling. Sweet little angel spread your wings and fly! Sweet little angel spread your wings and fly! It's time to let you go, it's time for us to cry. So many people, family and friends are going to miss you so. The impression that you left with us, we don't want to let go. God promises us a special place, that we will all see, by and by. Sweet little angel spread your wings and fly
