I worked with Lou from 2008 to 2010 as a teller at Soy Capital Bank. She was much loved and respected by her coworkers and the customers who drove thru the drive thru. I will just say this because it was true. She was not appreciated by the leaders of Soy Capital Bank. She left soon after I left in a manner befitting this fiesty gal. Customers lost a dear friend when she left. I was one of the workers who mourned with her when she lost her son, Gary. She now holds him in her arms where they both are now held by God. My family and I moved out of Decatur 5 years ago. Wish I could hug her family.

The sweetest lady I ever met. Whether it was at Soy Capital Bank drive-through or if I'd run into her in a store or a family gathering, she always had a big smile and made me feel like she was so happy to see me. Prayers for your family.
