RIP Lynn. It was a pleasure working with you all these years. I was always impressed with your work ethic and your sense of humor always made me chuckle. This photo was taken in 2016 at a seminar at Louisville Gas & Electric. David Ward Instrument Transformer Equipment Corp.

Lynn was a prince of a man. I enjoyed working with him in the electrical industry. He was very accommodating and treated both me and my deceased brother, Tim Moriarty, like family. I'll never forget him and his infectious smile, sense of humor and impeccable engineering skills. Truly a "hands-on" guy. God's speed, my friend. You always had my respect and admiration. Lynn was well known and both admired and respected for his knowledge and work in the electrical industry he served in. When I started over 40 years ago he was a well known salesman serving Illinois Power Company and stories of him climbing around in substations with his tape measure well into his late 70's were known by both customers and competitors alike. He was one of a kind. Ben Jedlicka

Lynn always joked that he made so many trips to his customers that his car knew the way.
