Alvin was one of the best cousins I ever had and I loved him more than anything. He always let me help him with working on the cars and before he went to the hospital. I helped him clean the garage and then we worked on a car. A little before that we road his nova around for a bit. Our dog Gracie saw him every day but she still ran away from him and growled. We all loved him and no one could ever replace him he was a blessing in all our lives. I miss you Alvin - Your Jammin

Alvin made a difference here. He fought through his weaknesses. He became a stronger human being and he shared his compassion and love. He made us better which is what our journey should be about. I will miss his quirky humor, his silliness, and his kindness. There are few people you can trust, absolutely. Alvin was that guy. Enjoy your golden journey, friend. You deserve it
