I am so sorry for your loss. You don't know me but I was at the hospital in the E.R with your grandparents , mom , and little sister. I was there with my son . We talked and chatted for hours . My heart absolutely breaks for your family. I didn't get to speak your mom after everything but I wanted to tell her how terribly sorry I was and I just wanted to hug her. I have thought about y'all's family since that night & hadn't been able to find you until now. I do crafts and work with epoxy & I would love to make something in remembrance of your sweet baby girl. I could tell by the few hours I talked to your mom and grandmother that everyone was so excited. I know I'm rambling and nothing I say is going to help your feel any better but from the bottom of my heart I am truly sorry. Your family left a huge impact on me that night . I'll be praying for strength & healing .
