My Beautiful Momma. I am at a loss for words. Even though we discussed this and I had 2 weeks with you, it hurts so much. I am just happy you are no longer suffering in pain and that you got to do this on your terms. Watch over us 3 girls and all your beautiful grandbabies. I love you most of all, Sleep in Peace my beautiful Momma.

Susan, My beautiful baby sister. Who usually wore a bubbly personality, she couldn't wait to share a story that she adapted her own version, adding a much funnier sarcastic rendering from the original. Where did the time go. It seemed like yesterday we were young playmates. She was always being nearby. Only being 11 months a part. We shared one month every year we would be the same age. My Irish twin. As Susans brother, I always wished her happiness and love and be loved. I want to thank God for giving us a last chance to have a nice cohesive conversation hours before her passing . She opened with " what's you doing " which she used quite often, starting a conversation. She said I'm not giving up my body is giving up. She wasn't afraid of the road ahead, being tired in pain knowing her health wasn't improving. I'm sad with some happiness knowing she is not suffering. She is part of me never to be replaced. I wish her peace and God willing to reunite with loved ones in heaven. Your loving brother Steven
